

M.S. in Nursing Concentration in Leadership and Management

The demand for well-educated, business-oriented professional nurses in managerial and leadership roles is growing and MSOE is meeting that demand with our MSN program. Students build from their own knowledge and nursing experience, learning the business skills necessary to be a health care leader.

All courses are offered in two formats: completely on line or blended-online. Full and part time program options offers flexibility to balance graduate education with work and family responsibilities.
